

FRIENDS OF SUNDANCE

Many organisations and individuals are genuinely committed to environmental improvements and are frustrated by the lack of an ethical and sustainable alternative to fossil fuels.

Biodiesel is not a cheap alternative to fossil diesel - but it doesn't cost the Earth. It is an environmentally friendly fuel, produced from locally collected used vegetable oil. As such, wealth is retained in the local economy and local jobs are created and supported.

So no more need to be a part of the problem - environmental devastation, the exploitation of the local population in oil producing countries and feeding the multinational companies that manipulate global economics and national governments... become part of the solution and start using biodiesel - a "feel good fuel".

If you are interested in our work, would like to receive our newsletter and become a preferred customer for the purchase of biodiesel, please complete the details below and return the form to:
